

Family Discipleship

A resource for the family

By: Luke Kirkendall
with ESV Proof Texts

Dear Dad,

Deuteronomy 6:4-7 contains what is called the Schema, and is the charge for every father to teach his children things of God.

“Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. And these words that I command you today shall be on your heart. You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, and when you walk by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise.”

In today’s fast paced and busy world, parents reluctantly relinquish their parental duties of rearing Godly children to substitutes. The result is that many parents never speak of spiritual things with their children. The only religious instruction that a child receives is on Sunday mornings for only a short while in Sunday School. Overtime, this pattern of substitute religious discipline becomes a habit; parents no longer see their charge to teach the love of God to their children as a command, but as an option if properly equipped. Since parents do not feel properly equipped to disciple their own children, they no longer reluctantly hand over spiritual discipleship of their children to another adult, but they eagerly trade the responsibility.

Since a child only hears of spiritual things for 1 hour a week it is no surprise that Christians know very little of Christian truths. We have a generation of Christian parents who have grown up not being disciplined, and the thought of discipling a child is dreadfully terrifying.

Here is where this little book comes in. This book will serve as a way of teaching spiritual truths to the parent and to the child. You will be required to spend a small amount of time with your child each day. You will ask your child one question, and have him recite back the answer to the question. After he responds then you will read a proof text that explains the answer to the question and talk over with your child how the verse proves the answer to the question. When reading the proof text, it is encouraged to read the passage from a Bible or even better yet if your child is able to read to have him find the verse in his Bible and read it to you. After reading the verse, allow your child to ask questions and stand firm upon God's Word to answer all His questions.

This pattern will happen 5 days a week. In the process you and your child will learn basic Christian truths, and be able to give Scripture to back up these truths. I want to help fathers and husbands in their role as spiritual leaders of the family. Hopefully, this time will stand as a critical point in the development of your child's faith in the Lord.

In the process, may God be glorified by households that know His Word and Truth.

Soli Deo Gloria (Glory to God Alone),

He cuts down cedars, or he chooses a cypress tree or an oak and lets it grow strong among the trees of the forest. He plants a cedar and the rain nourishes it.

Then it becomes fuel for a man. He takes a part of it and warms himself; he kindles a fire and bakes bread. Also he makes a god and worships it; he makes it an idol and falls down before it. Half of it he burns in the fire. Over the half he eats meat; he roasts it and is satisfied. Also he warms himself and says, "Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!" And the rest of it he makes into a god, his idol, and falls down to it and worships it. He prays to it and says, "Deliver me, for you are my god!"
